classwhere the Singapore journals take what Mr Goschen would call on intelligent in terest' in Hongkong public affairs. The Free Press, in our opinion, has the better grasp of the situation. But both the Free Press and the Straits Times orr whon they say the presence of two unofficials in the Executive Council is a substantial concession 'to public opinion, and that 'if may even be a useful one. Of course, much depends on who are the public representatives for the time being in the Executive Council, and with all due respect for His Excellancy's choice and the personal gifts of the two gentlemen he has selected, we are obliged to maintain that the public will benefit very little, if at all, from the presence of the Hon. C. P. Chater or he Hon. J. J. Bell-Irving in the inner circle. It would have been more in accordance with the views of the reform petitioners if the Hon. T. H. Whitehead had been offered one of the seats, useless though the concession may be. We should be surprised if this alleged concession should be advanced by anyone in Hongkong as a bar to further agitation. The Straits Times ventures to think "it so farmeets the circumstances of the case that the substantial and representative citizens of Hongkong are not likely to encourage further egitation in the. matter. If they do encourage further agitation, they will engage in a policy which we take to be mischievous, inasmuch as it will probably unsettle the public mind and will attain no useful end.' And with regard to the proposed Municipal Council it says .- The true reason, we think, why there is an objection to have a Municipal Council in Hongkong is that the Municipal area and the area of the Colonial Government are practically the same; and, since the colony is really only a town, a set of well-paid colonial officers have to act in Municipal matters or else to sit idle. That is perhaps sufficient reason for refusing to have a Municipal Council in Hongkong. But if that be a sufficient reason, it seems a pity to slander Hongkong by asserting that men good enough to form a Municipal Council cannot be found there. Is Hongkong to be classed with the Cities of the Plain? Are there not ten righteous men to be found there?

WE are pleased to see from the latest is-that the Spanish Consul in Hongkong is in

-Br villendinsip vill we obligated on the strictions in Manila. The Consul, in forwarding a despatch dated July 10th, giving the plague statistics for May and June, in view of the fact that the number of cases had fallen off from 345 in May to 114 in June, and to only 20 cases in the first ten days in July, and in the interests. of commerce between Hongkong and Manila, suggested a relaxation of the quamuting senor Javier Bores, the Director fine weather in the Foodhow district, is re-Civil refuses to admit of any relaxation. No attempt is made to justify the increased restrictions in the face of the decrease in the number of cases. We are informed that Manila, in former years, has been saved from epidemics in Singapore and Hongkong and that as Hongkong is still the focus of an unextinguished spidemic Manila is to keep to the strict letter of the law, and will refuse to raise the quarantine until fiftem or twenty days after the last cess of plague is reported. The Manila authorities not only toluse to believe the Hongkong official statistics but refuse to believe their own Consul, which is not of the new sesson's tea, arrived in London surprising to those who know anything on the 13th July, Baring made the run of certain closses of antique Spanish home in 34 days and 22 hours. officials. Even admitting the efficacy of quarantine for the sake of area. ment, the conduct of the Menila officials has been absolutely llogical. No one would seek to condemn them for adopting measures which in their opinion, after honeas enquiry, they conceive to be necessary for the protection of public lealth: What we object to is the arbitrary manner in which the quaranting is supplied when the plaque is ou the wane .- Thus for the Comercio. duty both to his own Government and to the interests of trade and commerce. He notified the outbreak of the Plague on the 1st of January, forwarded by every steamer the statistics marking its progress, and remonetrated against the marvellous action of the Manila authorities, when, upon the restrictions being trabled at the time the disease was actually on the wane and was practically disuppearing, the local Government here and shiplowners everywhere were puzzled over the strange proceeding. Quarantine may be all very well occasional-Ty, but quarantine in a spesmodie and unreasonable form galls everyous, and does no good whatever.

According to all the accounts from Home, Field Marshal Yamagata was completely overshadowed by Ld Hung Chang in Germany. This is a utilitarian age, and German manufacturers hope more from China than from Japan.

Le Hung Chang paid a visit to Frankfu on-the-Oder to inspect the regiment commanded by Colonel Liebert, the new organisor of the Chinese army of the future. It is stated that Capt. von Fulkenhayn and Lientenant Ganz will also enter the Chinese service.

A currous point not without interest to judges, lawyers, jurors and criminals arose during the Singapore assizes. A charge against a broker of criminal breach of trust was being heard, and the Court had been adjourned. One of the jurymen, our old friend Mr J. J. H. Orman, was unable t attend on account of sickness when the case was resumed. The prisoner expressed his willingness to accept the verdict of the remaining six jurers, but the Judge said he had no power to allow such, an arrange-

TRE Calcutta correspondent of the Rangoon Gazette writes :- 'The several clubs who intend taking part in the coming football tournament are in constant practice and matches are of daily occurrence. The main interest is centred in the competition for the Association Challenge Shield, and on practice matches, the Shropshire team has uttracted the most attention. It is thought the holders, the Royal Welsh Fusiliers, musting they ham half Talining in the same teams.' The Shropshires were good sports we hope they will make a good show.

WIRTH'S PACIFIC CIRCUS.

Many are the disadventages a travelling Circus Company have to contend with in this quarter of the globe. The expense of travelling has deterred many excellent circuses from visiting Hongkong, and the community have thereby been deprived of many enjoyments. It is therefore with great pleasure we welcome amongst us Wirth's Pacific Circus. The circus has been touring in Japan and Shanghai, and arrived here by the Kwanglee. On the voyage down from Shanghai Mr Wirth, the head of the company, died suddenly, and was interred on arrival at Hongkong in the write minutes traversing the demands of Happy Valley. This sad occurrence was a heavy blow to the Company, and the opening night which was fixed for Tuesday was postponed till yesterday evening. The circus is situated at Jardine's Lot, Wanchai, near Kennedy's Stables. Inside the tent everything has been comfortably arranged, and it is illuminated by means of gas jets. There was a very large audience last night, and despite the high temperatureduring the day the tent was wonderfully cool. On entering the circus one had an the display of the local teams, so fer, in the opportunity of viewing the collection of wild animals, among which was a beautiful tiger. The first of these causes, the feeling aroused by the withholding of a Municipality, has been inflamed, with just cause we think, by the destruction of the popular character of the Sanitary Board, (a most useful body as at first constituted and if given fairplay), and by its reduction to the level of a Government department. That the Hongkong community should gradually come to feel all this intolerable was natural and inevitable; that its leaders should be led into setting up a scheme of reform including some useful, some vague, and some impracticable ideas, was only what night have been expected. But however critics may differ about their 'programme '-a programme is apt to swell beyoud reasonable bounds as it grows under the hinds of its creatom—it must be conceded that the political status quo in Hone. kong was necessarily unstable, because it implied the denial, to an active, intelligent and progressive community, of even that control over 'its own affairs,' in a Municipal sense, that every sixth-rate country township in India possesses, even if there are hardly two or three Europeans (official at that) in the place. The Reform movement, with which we are in a degree in sympathy, erred, we believe, in enfarcing too much the analogy with other Crown Colonies very differently situated and very differently constituted. It erred also, on that basis, of grasping at too much, of pushing the application of the theory of local self-government to a point that we firmly hold went beyond local needs. It made use of large incsounding phrases without narrowly considering what incongruities and doxes their strictly logical adoption would entail in practice in a community so artificially constructed as is that of Hongkong Two unofficials indeed, Mr Keswick and Mr Belilies, comprehended something of the practical difficulties, and felt impelled to the Hongkong petition and pointing out some of the undesirable consequences which might result on the concession of all that the petition prayed for. The Governor himself, as also the Colenial Secretary, put on paper, for the information of the Scoretary of State (then Lord Ripon), their views, which in a number of respects were adverse to the contentions of the Petition for Constitutional Reform. In our opinion, however, Sir William Robinson was distinctly wrong when he declared his believe that in Hongkong a sufficient number of gentlemen of independent means and with spirit and sufficient leisure could not be found to form a capable and energetic Municipal Council. His Excellency of Hongkong does not appear to know that in the adjacent colony of the Straits Settlements Municipal institutions work well, and the only difficulty felt is that caused by an occasional unwise exercise of the Governor's somewhat too wide powers of revision and supplied with material available for the the views of the Indian Government. manning of Municipal Councils than either der the circumstances in which the Indian Singappre or Penang Sin William R. THE EMPLOYMENT OF INDIAN TROOPS IN EGYPT

(Rangoon Gazette). Simla, July 3.—The following is the full text of the principal portion of the Vicercy's despatch to the Secretary of State for India, dated 2nd June :- When recently the necessity for sending a force from this country to Suakita seemed probable we informed your Lordship that it was presumed that no portion of the expense, either ordinary or extraordinary, would be borne by the Indian revenues. Subsequently, when it had been definitely settled that the force would be required in accordance with your Lordship's wishes we communicated by wire the substance of our views on the subject, even in face of the decision of your Lordship in Council that you see no objection to the precedent of the Suakim expedition of 1885 being followed, a decision which we have received with deepest regret, we still deem it incumbent on us respectfully but carnestly to protest against the revenues of India being called upon to contribute my part of the cost of this force, whether ordinary or extraordinary, and now wish to explain in detail our reasons for doing so. Firstly, we may remind your Lordship that the employment of Indian troops outside Indian limits on duties not directly connected with the interests of India is o unfrequent occurrence, and the Indian Government has consistently opposed the appropriation of Indian revenues for these

Secondly, we invite your attention to the despatch, dated 4th August 1882, in which we dealt with the occasions on which our troops had been so employed previous to the despatch of the the contingent to Egypt in that year. The despatch in question strongly protests against the employment of Indian troops at all except under the gravest possible circumstances, much less the appropriation of Indian money. Having regard to the future we do not like India to be looked upon as an English barrack in Oriental seas in which ally number of troops may be drawn without paying

Again, when the employment of Indian troops was required in 1885, we strongly protested sgainst the Indian revenues being required to bear any portion of the expenditure involved, whether additional or otherwise but as we were informed that India should bear the ordinary charges whilst the Imperial revenue should meet the extraordinary ones, we abstained from again pressing the matter on the consideration of Her Majesty's Government. We were then deeply impressed with the conviction that no better check could be placed upon the inconvenience and danger arising from the employment of Indian troops outside the sphere of Indian interests than by insisting on the principle that in cases such as the present, Her Majesty's Government should admit and discharge the obligation of defraying all expenditure accessitated by a course of action which has no bearing on these interests. We cannot conceive a case in which the claims of the Indian tax-payer are more overwhelmingly strong. All troops and all material which were sent from England to aid in putting down the Mutiny thirty-nine years ago were paid for out of the Indian revenues. From our correspondence then veto. Hongkong is, in fact, rather better it is clear Lord Cross practically accepted proceeding to Suakim our difficulty in appreciating the reasons for this decision materially increased by the fact that when contending for the retention upon the Indian revenues of the charge for ordinary sury urged that a stronger claim against India could be made out than existed in the case of either the Abyssinia war or the Soudan expedition, so to the arrangement now proposed regarding Sunkim, we must most strongly demur. The operations now taking place in the Soudan are altogether outside the sphere, of our responsibilities and added to this we would say Her Majesty's Government add to our responsibilities by calling upon us to furnish troops for service at an unhealthy station and in the worst season of the year. India has already paid for the training of the troops now placed at the disposal of Her Majesty, and we consider that this advantage for which we do not surpose to charge the Imperial Gevernment, is the only concession which should be sllowed at the expense of the Indian Government. In conclusion, in the interests of the country of which the administration is entrusted to us we trust your Lordship will accord of our representation your fullest support. The Viceroy's despatch, which is signed Elgin, White, Westland, Woodburn, Chalmers. Collen and Trever, is considered here masterly and in no way exaggerating the gravity of the case.

Simla, July 6.—The terms of Lore Elgin's depatch have been most cordially approved in Simla, and it is exceedingly probable in spite of the action of Lord George Hamilton that a second protest will be despatched by the Indian Government. > Sir M. Hicks Beach said that what was new proposed by the Government was no more than what was proposed in 1885, but was coupled with a statement of future policy more favourable to India than was ever before made. India he said, maintained that Egyptian affairs were rather of Imperial than Indian interest and he never knew a responsible statesman advance so narrow a view. The majority of the Council of the Secretary of State, who were equally entitled with the Government of India to decide on such a question, held that but for the Indian Empire England would have no interests in Egypt, and it was therefore just that India should share in the cost of defending those interests. Although Mr Morley's amendment was rejected by a majority of 85 votes Lord George Hamilton's resolution was carried by a majority of 146 votes, 252 members having voted in favour and 106 against it Twenty-one Unionists, including Messrs Bowles, Bartley and Gibbs and the leading

THE CHINA REVIEW.

PUBLISHED BI-MONTHL

/ HIS Review, which was intended to meet the wants of many students of Chinese caused by the discontinuance of ' Notes and Queries on China and Japan, has reached its-Twenty-second Volume. The Review disthe minds of students of the 'Far East' and about which every intelligent person con-nected with China or Japan is desirous of acquiring trustworthy information. It lueludes many interesting Notes and original Papers on the Arts, Sciences, Ethnology, Folklore, Geography, History, Literature, Mythology, Natural History, Antiquities, and Social Manners and Customs, etc., etc., and Social Manners and Customs, etc., etc., etc., time of good old Pepus for mention of a of China, Japan, Mongolia, Tibet, and the Far East generally. Recently a new departure has been taken, and the Review now gives papers on Trade, Commerce, and Descriptive notes of Travel by well-known writers. It was thought that by extending the scope of the Review in this direction, the Magazine would be made more generally useful.

The Review department receives special attention, and endeavours are made topresent a careful and concise record of Literature on China etc., and to give critiques embodying suntenes of the Most recent works on such topics. Authors and Publishers are requested to forward works to Editor, China Review, care of China Mail Office.'

The Notes and Queries are still continued and form an important means of obtaining | from and diffusing among students knowledge on obscure points. The Correspondents' column also affords farther and greater facilities for the interchange of views and discussion of various Original contributions in Chinese, Latin, or any of the Modern Languages are received. The papers are contributed by the members of the various Consular, the Imperial Customs, and Hongkong Services, in the first half of the 17th century, used a and also by the Missionary bodies amongst whom a high degree of Chinese scholarship is assiduously cultivated. Amongst the regular contributors are Drs. Chalmers, the tempiwere given by the first violinist, Eitel, Bretschneider, and Hirth, Professor Legge, and Messrs Balfour, Watters, Stent, Phillips, MacIntyro, Groot, Jamieson, Faber, Kopsch, Parker, Playfair, Giles, Piton, and Taylor, -all well-known names, indicative of sound scholarship and thorough mastery of their subject.

The Subscription is fixed at $6.50 per annum, postage included - payable in ad-Orders for binding volumes will be promptly attended to; Address, 'Manager, China Mail Office.'

THE EARLIEST CONDUCTOR'S

The stange statement in Dr Murray's English dictionary, which gives 1867 as the carliest dited reference to the use of the word bates as a conducting stick in English literature is just now the subject of an interesting discussion. Sir George Grove surmises that the first baton employed in England was probably the Taktirstabehen used by Spohr at the Philharmonic Concerts in 1820. Mr F. G. Edwards goes back further, and quotes from one of Samuel Wesley's lectures delivered in 1827 : I remember that in the time of Dr Boyce (1710-1771) it was customary to mark the mensure to the crehestra with a roll of parchment or paper in Land, and this usage is yet continued at St. Paul's Cathedral at time of good old Pepys, for mention of a conducting stick. In Lord Braybrook's edition (Varne and Co.) the reference is unfortunately omitted, but Mr Edward has found it for us in Mynors Bright's edition under date June 6, 1661. Pepys and Lieutenant Lambert visited Greenwich: 'Therewe went and ext and drank and heard musique at the Globe, and saw the simple metion that is there of a woman with a rod in her hand keeping time to the musique while it plays; which is simple A goodmany conductors of the present day do very little more than 'keep time to the musique while it plays.' It is, of course, possible that from a very ancient period some sort of baten was employed in training the performers. But the 'woman with a rod in her hand, a spectacle which good old Pepys thought so simple, is, we believe, the first reference made to the conductor's baton in England, while the damsel undoubtedly was the predecessor of the Viscountess Folkestone, Madame Trebelli, Mrs Clara Novello Davies, Mrs Julian Marshall, the Countess of Radnor, and other lady conductors. It is possible that Pepys' heroine brought the custom from Germany, for we believe, according to tradition, Heinrich Albert, who flourished conductors stick. It seems strange that men still iving can reallect the time when at the opera and at symphony concerts, and the unductor sat at a piane, which says Spour, 'when it was heard with the orchestra had a very bad effect.' Weber and Mendelssohn both conducted in London with a baton, and the custom was firmly established by Costa in the early thirties. At the famous Gewandhaus concerts, Leipsic, lowever, the fiddle bow of the first violinist was not superseded by the conductor's stick until Mendelssohn made the change in 1835. Six years later Mendelssohn and Berlioz exchanged batons at Leipsic, the witty Frenchman sending his bers for Dundee, who has just returned German friend a letter beginning : 'Au chef Mendelsohn. Grand chef! days is all that is needed to inspire a Rudinous nous sommes promis d'échanger nos tomahawks; voici le mien! Il est grossier. le tien est simple ; les squawssoules et les visages ples aiment les armes ornées.' It would by the way be interesting to listened to them. The Secretary for India know the real origin of the leadership of dealt with them more gently than their own the first violinist. According to Berlioz, it arose from the deafness of Beethoven when little; the latter denounced and censured 'the musicians in order that they might them. Sir Henry Fowler was particularly keep together, eventually agreed to follow angry with Sir William Wedderburn, who the slight indications of time which the looked quite miserable when he heard himconcert neister gave them, and not to attend to Beethoven's conducting stick.'-

THE CHINESE MAIL 報日字華 (Wah Tox Yat Pe).

THIS paper is now issued every day The subscription is fixed at Five Dollars per annum delivered in Hongkong, or Eleven Dollars Forty Cents including postage to Coast ports. It is the first Chinese Newspaper ever issued under murely native direction. shief support of the paper is of course derived from the native community, amongst whom also are to be found the guarantors and securities necessary place it on a business and legal footing. The projectors, basing their estimates apon the most reliable information from the various Ports in China and Japan,from Australia, California, Singapore, Penang, Saigon, and other places frequented be he Chinese,—consider themselves justified in guaranteeing a large and over-increasing circulation. The advantages offered to advertisers are therefore unusually great, and the foreign community generally will find it to their interest to avail themselves of

The field open to a paper of this description-conducted by native efforts, but progressive and anti-obstructive in tones almost limitless. It on the one hand commands Chinese belief and interest while on the other it deserves every aid that can be given to it by foreigners Like English journals it contains Editorials, with Local, Shipping, and Commercial News and Advertisements. Subscription orders for the above may be
